Problem solving procedure

Please remember that problem solving should take the following steps:

1. Check the Faculty website for updates and announcements pertaining to your problem. If no announcements have been made, the issue is most likely covered in the Student Guide;
2. Check this Student Guide for possible solutions to your issue. If it is not there, then;
3. Check the Welcome Point for possible solutions to your issue. If it is not there, then;
4. Contact a Students' Union representative. If they are unable to find a solution or it is beyond their expertise, then;
5. Send an email to studentsoffice.wnpism@uw.edu.pl along with your student number (found on your student ID), full name, year and program, plus a detailed description of the issue.

Attention! When dealing with issues, it is customary to work your way from step 1 to 5 successively.

The Students' Council representatives will be present in each student group (you will elect your own representatives during the first week of classes). These students will work as a connection between the student body and the administration. They will guide you on how to deal with issues that have been faced previously by our international students and how to proceed beyond their expertise. New representatives will receive training in a multitude of areas and will be involved in the organization of a variety of activities.

Buildings and Facilities

The Faculty is split between different buildings:

- Auditorium Building (Collegium Politicum) at the Main Campus of UW - main building of our Faculty; Faculty's International Office; Administration; classrooms
- 3 Krakowskie Przedmiescie at the front of the Main Campus of UW – classrooms, the seat of the Department of European Union Policies (room 205, 206), Department of Law and European Union Institutions (room 203, 204), Department of Eastern Studies (room 200)
- 67 Nowy Swiat – classrooms, the seat of the Department of Methodology of Political Science (room 108, 109), Department of Internal Security (room 101, 101 B), Department of Labor System and Labor Market (room 103, 104), Department of Social Policy (room 105 B, 106, 107), Department of Political Theory and Political Thought (room 208, 209), Department of Political History (room 204, 205), Department of Political Sociology and Political Marketing (room 210), Department of State Sciences and Public Administration (room 201, 202)
- 69 Nowy Swiat – classrooms
- Old Library Building (Main Campus) – classrooms

Most classes take place in the Auditorium Building (Collegium Politicum)

The Faculty's Students' Section Office is also in room 127, 1st Floor – Entrance B, Auditorium Building (Collegium Politicum). You can also find there the Head of the Undergraduate and Graduate Programmes in International Relations, Political Science and European Politics and Economics, should you need to visit them during their office hours.

See Main Campus Map and Map of Faculty's Buildings

Libraries and Online Resources

The library is the cornerstone of education. It is the informational hub of the university that holds the resources a student might need. Once in possession of your student card and after registering, you will be able to access the online resources of the university which include many digital databases.

Main University Library (BUW)

BUW (pronounced bOOv) is the short name for Biblioteka Uniwersytetu Warszawskiego, which is the main library of the University of Warsaw. It has many comfortable study areas that are both closed off and open. It is the centre of student life during exam sessions and students often consider it a home away from home. It isn't just a library but a commune full of restaurants, various services and facilities, entertainment and a rooftop garden.

There are a few buses on Nowy Swiat that will take you from the Faculty to BUW (Located at Dobra 55 street). It is also a short 10 minute walk!

*Note - make sure to bring your student ID and register it at the office in the BUW building in order to be able to access the library

WNPiSM Faculty Library

For more specialised literature you can venture to our Faculty library. It is located next to the main campus at Nowy Swiat 69 on the 1st floor. It is a substantially smaller library but offers a good selection of books and resources. Teaching Professors and lecturers will order the reading materials for classes to this library.

*Note - students are unable to check out books from this library

Academic Calendar

The academic calendar is our University's official calendar where you can find all of the official holidays and the dates for exams and retake sessions. These dates are valid unless otherwise specified. You will find the latest calendar for the academic year 2026/2027 here.

Exam Sessions and Retake Sessions

According to your Academic calendar, after each semester you will have an exam session. If you don't pass the exam during the first exam session, you have the opportuninty to attend the retake session; the exact dates are specified in the academic calendar. It is your obligation to pass the exam either during the exam session or the retake session. There are no other exam sessions than the first one and the retake one.

Organisation of education in the upcoming academic year 2026/2027

In accordance with the Regulations issued by the Rector of the University of Warsaw all the classes in the Academic Year 2026/2027 will be held on-site (offline).

Please make sure that you become familiar with:

- Important acts at our Faculty:
  - Especially – Rules of Study at the University of Warsaw
- The Academic programme of your studies

Useful site for incoming University of Warsaw students: Welcome Point

Welcome Point is the central information service for international employees, visitors, and students – both those who come to UW for a one-semester exchange and those who come to pursue the whole cycle of studies. We cooperate closely with the Admissions Office, the International Relations Office, the Office for Student Affairs, and other University units to provide you with relevant and up-to-date information on matters related to the University, student activities, and everyday life.

Our team is here to assist you at the beginning and during your stay in Warsaw. We will be glad to answer your questions concerning studies at UW and life in Poland, as well as to direct you to other University offices. We hope to make your transition to UW and life in Warsaw as smooth as possible!

Student Management System (USOS)

The University's Student Mail Service

Having an email address in the University of Warsaw's domain enables online communication with the professors who teach your classes, and with students who attend the same classes as you. This is possible thanks to the U-MAIL service in the USOSweb system. You don't have to know the addresses of these people: it's enough if they are entered into the USOS database. Also, many professors that teach elective courses outside of our Faculty will use the university mail system to contact students. You may also use the search function to look up the email of any professor that works at the university. It is a very helpful resource.

Polish address for correspondence - IMPORTANT!

After your arrival in Poland you will be legally obliged to provide the International Office with an address based in Poland. A mailing address is necessary for official correspondence from the University of Warsaw. If your mailing address changes, you must inform the International Office IMMEDIATELY!

Registration

You must remember that registration for elective courses has to be done through your own USOS account (Student's Section –> Registrations). There are three types of registrations/applications.

- University's USOS - application for dormitories and scholarships, bank account, student mobility, registration for obligatory and elective courses offered by our Faculty, for other classes (such as PE, language classes, general elective courses and so on)

There are web platforms used for a variety of administrative tasks at the majority of Polish universities. In order to sign in you will need a valid login and a password. Students, who have the Polish PESEL number, can use it as a login, together with a password from the IRK account. Students, who do not have the Polish PESEL number, use the personal number received from the faculty admissions office as a login, together with a password from the IRK account. The password can be changed by you at any time (look for the "change password" field in the top right corner of the screen).

Helpful Tips When Registering:
- Make sure you are logged in as you will not be able to register for any course without being logged in
- Double check the study program!
- First year students will automatically be registered for the mandatory classes from your faculty. First years just have to sign up for electives, language courses, and PE

Below you can find a list of requirements you need to meet to pass the first year of the programme:

Programme Requirements

Graduate Programme in International Relations (GPIR) and Graduate Programme in Political Science (GPPS)

1. Earn credits for all of the courses listed in the academic programme:

a. The course schedule will be available here.

b. Students are obliged to pass general elective courses - the required ECTS – follow the respective study programme. In the course of the programme students must earn 5 ECTS for courses taught in humanities.

c. General elective course (called OGUN in Polish) is a course offered by different faculties of the University of Warsaw.

d. Registration for general elective courses should be made via token registration. Please, check the language of the instruction before registration.

e. Additionally, we offer courses covering Polish culture tailored for foreign students. The list of the courses will be available here. Please, check the language of instruction before registration (some of the courses are taught in Polish).

f. Courses prepared for incoming ERASMUS+ programme students can be also chosen as a general elective for your programme. The schedule for those courses will be available soon. Registration for those courses will start in September (registration via Faculty's USOSWeb).

2. Every Student is required to complete Occupational Health and Safety (OHS) course during their 1st year (online course; you will receive more information about it in October).

3. Every student is required to complete Introduction to International Protection of Intellectual Property (on-site course; you will receive more information about it in October)

 ECTS for general elective courses are not calculated per semester of study but for the specific academic year.

1. Earn credits for all of the courses listed in the academic programme: The course schedule is available here. It is also visible in your USOSweb accounts, together with the information which study group you are assigned to.
2. Earn credits for language courses:
   a. According to the programme curriculum (available here) you will need to pass 4 foreign language courses during your studies (each 60 hours per semester through 4 semesters). Please remember that apart from the language courses you will need to pass a university language exam on a B2 level (minimum). You can choose a language other than the one that you have studied, but it can't be the official language of your home country. For the language classes you will need to pay with special tokens (tokens are an official currency preloaded to your USOSweb accounts). You will have enough tokens to register for 4 language courses (apart from Polish language classes). If you don't attend the course, yet fail to unregister from it (within the same deadline as given for registration), you will lose the tokens spent on that course. It means that you will need to pay for additional tokens to meet the programme requirements. Students who registered for the winter semester will be automatically registered to continue the course in the summer semester (even if the student has no tokens left, which will result in an additional payment). Please remember to unregister from the summer term course as soon as you decide not to take part in it.
   b. Prior to registration for some of the language courses, you will be asked to take a placement test here. You will need to take it, even if you want to choose the beginners level. More information about placement tests can be found here.
   c. Registration for foreign language courses should be made via this link. Registration schedule is available here. Before you register, please check the language of instruction of the course!
   d. Polonicum UW offers 4 semesters of Polish language courses for foreign students. The registration process is similar to other language courses. The registration is available here. You can simultaneously attend Polish language classes and other foreign language classes or use Polish language class as a foreign language class and fulfill programme requirements on that part.
3. Pass Physical Education (PE) classes: According to the programmes curriculum (available here) you will need to pass 3 terms of Physical Education classes during your studies (altogether 90 hours; each course is 30 hours; students need to register for 30 hours of PE in semesters 1-2-3). You have enough tokens to register for three PE classes. If you do not attend the class you will lose the credits, resulting in failure of the classes and extra payment for the missing PE course (similar to language courses regulation). Registration here.
4. Earn credits for general elective course / courses - the required ECTS - follow the respective study programme.* In the course of the programme students must earn 5 ECTS for courses taught in humanities.
   a. General elective course (called OGUN in Polish) is a course offered by different faculties of the University of Warsaw. Registration and rules for those courses are similar to the rules of registration for language and PE classes.
   b. All of the general elective courses are listed here. Please, check the language of the instruction before registration.
   c. Additionally, we offer courses covering Polish culture, prepared for foreigners. The list of these courses is available here. Please, check the language of instruction before registration (some of the courses are taught in Polish).

Erasmus Mundus Joint Master's Degree Programme in International Humanitarian Action (NOHA)

1. Earn credits for all of the courses listed in the academic programme
   a. The full programme is available here . Your individual programme will depend on which universities you select for your second and third semester.
   b. Students are obliged to participate in the Intensive Programme in September which will take place in 2027 in Bochum (RUB).
   c. Students are obliged to pass courses worth 30 ECTS in each semester (1. Foundation Period; 2. Specialisation Period; 3. Contextualisation Period; 4. Research Period), see more at https://www.nohanet.org/masters
   d. At the University of Warsaw, students can also benefit from general elective courses (called OGUN in Polish) i.e. courses offered by different faculties of the University of Warsaw.
   e. Registration for general elective courses should be made via token registration. Please, check the language of the instruction before registration.
   f. Additionally, we offer courses covering Polish culture designed for foreign students. The list of the courses will be available here. Please, check the language of instruction before registration (some of the courses are taught in Polish).
   g. Courses prepared for incoming ERASMUS+ programme students can be also chosen as a general elective for your programme. The schedule for those courses will be available soon. Registration for those courses will start in September (registration via USOSweb).

2. Every Student is required to complete Occupational Health and Safety (OHS) course during their 1st year (online course; you will receive more information about it in October).

PLEASE NOTE!

Occupational Health and Safety (OHS) Course & the Introduction to Intellectual Property courses

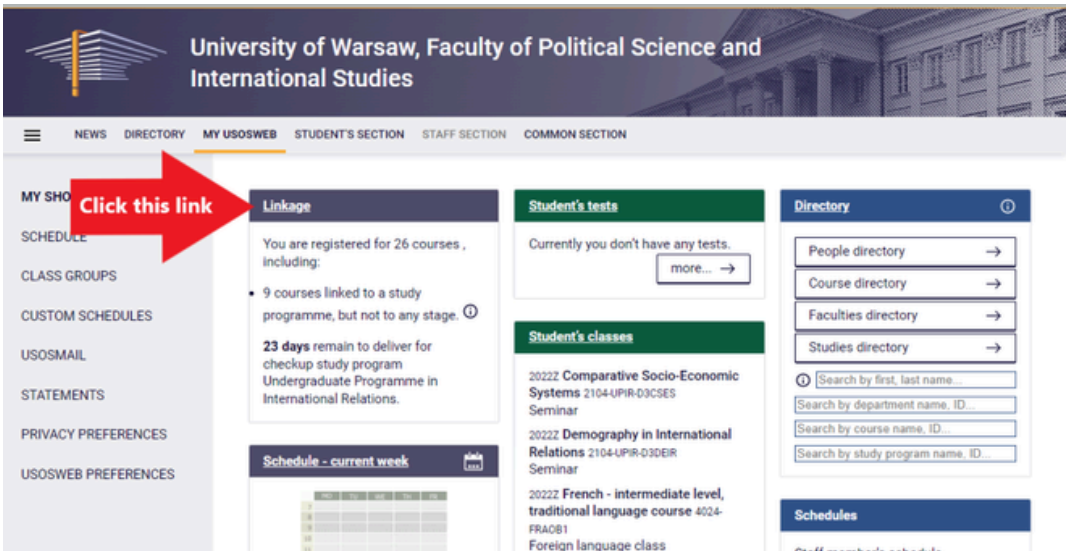

During your studies, you are obliged to pass the Occupational Health and Safety (OHS) course and the Introduction to intellectual property course. If you have already passed these courses at any Polish university at either the undergraduate level or graduate level, and that way you don't have to attend these classes anymore, you have to send the transcript of your grade to the International Office.

 ECTS for general elective courses are not calculated per semester of study but for the specific academic year.

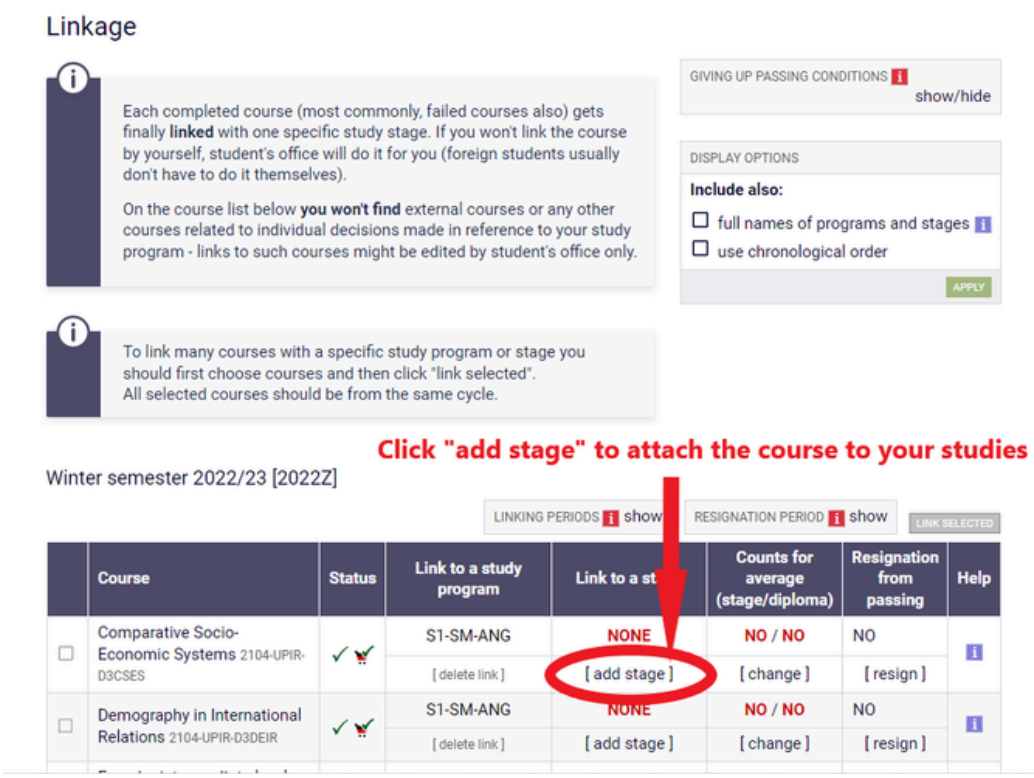

How to link your courses?

Although you may not have to register for your mandatory courses in the first semester you will have to link them to your study programme, along with your other, non-mandatory (elective) courses, so that the system can count the credits awarded for them. Below you may find a useful guide on how to link your courses.

Each completed course (most commonly, failed courses also) gets finally linked with one specific study stage. If you won't link the course by yourself, student's office will do it for you (foreign students usually don't have to do it themselves).
On the course list below you won't find external courses or any other courses related to individual decisions made in reference to your study program - links to such courses might be edited by student's office only.
If you have followed the instructions correctly, you will see this notification. Now you can repeat with other courses.
To link many courses with a specific study program or stage you should first choose courses and then click "link selected".
All selected courses should be from the same cycle.

Tuition Fees

The fee for all programmes is 4300 EUR per year (2150 EUR per semester). Payments can be made only by a bank transfer to provided bank accounts. NOTE: Only payments in EUR will be accepted!

You may pay separately for the semesters of each academic year or for the whole respective year (see below for the deadlines).

1. The University of Warsaw provides a separate bank account for each student. You can check personal account details in the USOS system.

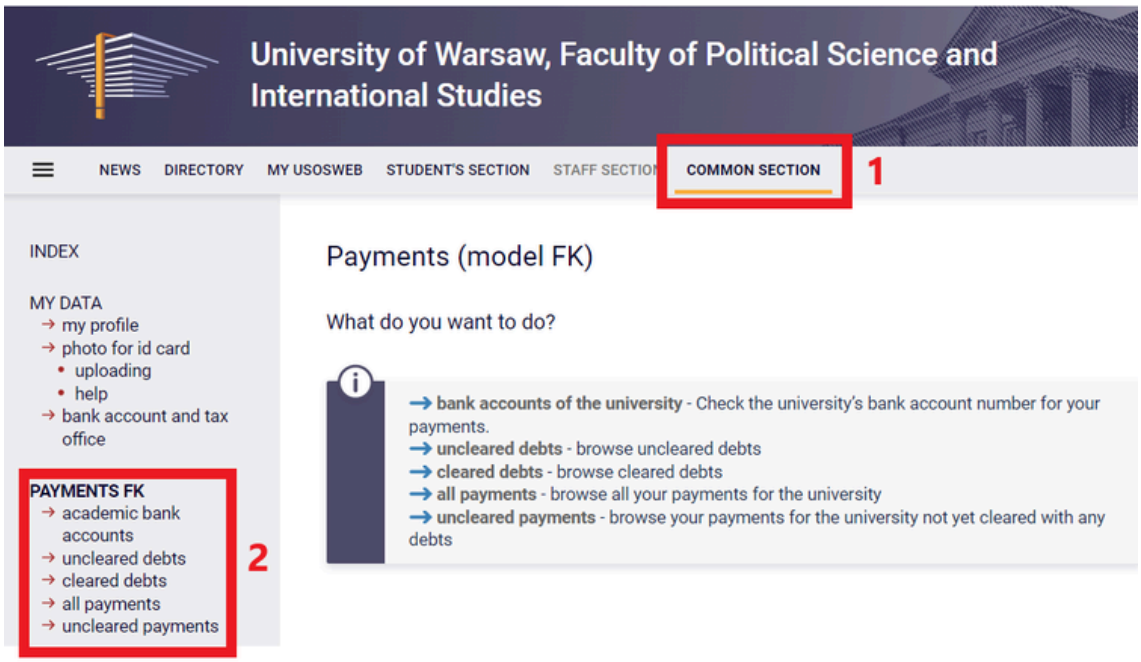

2. Payment deadlines:
   a. fee for the 1st semester – until 15 Oct 2026 – for students admitted to the 1st year of studies

International WNPiSM

International WNPiSM is the international committee of the Students' Council of the Faculty of Political Science and International Studies (WNPiSM) at the University of Warsaw. It represents and supports the international community by helping students adapt to academic life at the University and everyday life in Warsaw, providing organizational and informational support. International WNPiSM assists students in matters related to their studies and student life while organizing integration, cultural, and educational events. The committee works to foster an inclusive environment at the Faculty and strengthen engagement within the international student community. The Students' Council regularly organizes events conducted in English to ensure accessibility for all international students. At the same time, international students are warmly encouraged to participate in Polish-language events, providing additional opportunities for integration and cultural exchange within the Faculty community.

International WNPiSM encourages students to actively participate in faculty life, develop their own initiatives, and connect with fellow students.

Teaching and Learning Council for UPIR/ UPPS/GPIR/GPPS/EPE/SPP/NOHA

The role of the Teaching and Learning Council is to make sure that your programme runs smoothly and meets the highest academic standards. In practice, this means the Council:

- oversees how your courses are taught,
- makes sure the study, programme follows the University rules and national standards,
- ensures that your learning experience is fair, consistent, and of good quality.

This council consists of both academic staff and student representatives. If you are interested in becoming a representative, speak to the Students' Union and find out more about the election process to the Council.
